Le Corbusier (1887-1965). One of the most influential architects of the 20th century.

He left behind a legacy of designs and plans, spanning almost 38,000 notes, diagrams, plans and drawings, covering his 325 projects. Fondation Le Corbusier, established in 1968, painstakingly collected these designs and plans so that Le Corbusier’s legacy can be properly passed along to future generations of architects and scholars.

The high-definition digital archive, Le Corbusier Plans, was developed by Echelle-1 in partnership with Fondation Le Corbusier. Echelle-1 spent seven laborious years to digitize and catalogue the Foundation’s superb collection of Le Corbusier’s lifetime of architectural works, covering his 325 projects starting from 1905 through to 1964.

Now, in a world first, the master architect’s complete legacy is offered as a comprehensive digital archive, available as an online research tool. In addition to the archive collection itself, Le Corbusier Plans Online offers additional photographs and introductions by world-famous researchers and architects, discussing Le Corbusier’s various projects.

Le Corbusier Plans Online is an outstanding tool of study of the master architect’s legacy, intended for students, researchers, architects, and scholars.

For information on Le Corbusier Plans Online, please contact the following.

For all regions:
Echelle-1, Inc.
info@echelle-1.com
Le Corbusier Plans Online

Home Page
This is the starting page when using the Plans Online. All the tools and features are accessible from here. Key tools are highlighted with color-shaded buttons for easy recognition and access.

Project Search Page
The 325 projects can be filtered and searched using criteria such as Decade, Country, Built, as well as by free-form keywords and phrases.

Individual Project Page
Many of the projects are introduced by world-renowned architects and researchers, with additional commentaries.

Image Search Page — List View
The 38,000 individual archive images can be filtered and searched using criteria such as Decade, Country, Built, Project Name, FLC Number, as well as by free-form keywords and phrases.

Image Search Page — Thumbnail View
It is also possible to search the archive in thumbnail view, with access to the same filter and search functions as the list view.

Individual Image Archive Page
This page shows a large thumbnail image of the archive in addition to data and information pertaining to it. Project name, description, FLC number, location, atelier, signature, original document size, and image scale are some of the information provided.

Individual High-Definition Image Page
The 38,000 individual archive images can be viewed in high-definition mode, with zoom-in feature. Fine details are displayed smoothly and are viewable with ease.